DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 1-22 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 1, line 9, recites "said first attachment element". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation. Appropriate correction is required.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record singly or in combination fails to teach or suggest all the features as presented in independent claims 1 and 23 which includes: a light apparatus having a light generating device, a battery housing, a first attachment mechanism secured to said battery housing, an elongate support conduit interposed between said light generating device and said battery housing, and a power source disposed within said battery housing, and wiring extending through said elongate support conduit and electrically coupling said light generating device to said power source, and a support structure having a second attachment mechanism configured to mate with said first attachment element, wherein said first attachment mechanism of said light apparatus includes one of a dovetail shaped element and a dovetail shaped cavity, and wherein said second attachment mechanism of said support structure includes the other of said dovetail shaped element and said dovetail shaped cavity.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zeiler (US 2005/011214) discloses a power tool and accessory, Horiyama (US Pat. NO 6,502,949) discloses an adapters for use with an electric power tool. All aforementioned references fail to teach every element of the claimed invention particularly an attachment mechanism including a dovetail shaped element and a dovetail shaped cavity.
